AN ESSAY

Concerning the true original Genuineness and End of Liberty.

By JOHN LOKE, ESQ.

It is well known among the Learned, that Mr. Locke's two Treatises on Government, of which the first is called "Institutiones," and the second "Essay on Liberty," have been of the greatest utility and value. The first, for the elucidation of the great principles of the Government of the Universe, and the second, for the elucidation of the Principles of Slavery and Liberty. These works have been highly esteemed, and have been universally read and admired.

All Persons indebted to the Estate of John Ruggles, late of Hub., sit. decease, are requested to come forward. For further particulars apply to Mr. John Ruggles, at the Sign of the Guild Wheel, in Boston.

As a legal Notice of the Privy Council, Westminster, January 1772, in Order to take into Consideration what it has been said to have been done under the Projected Spain or France, or under the Subsequent Proclamation, the following Despatches are ordered by the Committee of the House for this Purposes, being twice read, difficulty, was ordered.

A THOUGH we are an infant Settlement, and somewhat remote from the capital of the province, we are forward to make publick mention of our political events, during the disputes which have been arising between us and our neighbors. We have, in general, been on friendly terms with the Indians, and our dealings have been governed by mutual peace and commerce. But it is now reported that some of our neighbors have been making incursions into our territory, and that we are in danger of being involved in a war with them. This is a matter of great concern to us, and we desire to express our disapproval of such conduct.

We have been long familiar with the idea that our rights as men, as subjects of Great Britain, have been secured by the laws and traditions of the land. We have been deeply impressed with the necessity of maintaining these rights, and of defending them against any encroachment. We are strongly opposed to any measure that would tend to impair them.

In conclusion, we wish to express our thanks to the Committee of the House for their kind notice of our petition, and to assure them that we shall continue to do our best to promote the welfare of our community.

"We hear from Lunenburg, that Doctor John Taylor, late Representative from that Town, in order for the Promotion of the Military Art, an Acquaintance with which in these Times of public Calamity, seems indispensably necessary, generously gave to the Minute Company in that Town, 55 Military Books, according to the Plan of Exercise ordered by his Majesty in 1764; viz. one Book to each Officer and Soldier in said Company. ——— A notable Instance of the truly patriotic Spirit of the Donor."

19 December 1774, Boston Post-Boy, Pg. 3
BOSTON, Monday, January 23.

There have been lately several instances of flagrant abuse offered by some of the officers of the army to the inhabitants of this town without any provocation. A few evenings ago, two young lads, sons of Mr. Richard Hunnewell, going to their father's house in Essex-street, South end, were fired upon by an officer from the window of a house, where he was; but happily the shot with which the musket was charged passed between the lads without hurting either of them, and lodged in a neighbouring fence. And last Friday evening there was a high-handed riot in King Street, occasioned, as we are informed, by a number of officers attempting to rescue a prisoner out of the hands of the Town watch. As inquisition is now making into this affair before a magistrate, we shall defer the particulars till our next. On Saturday night last three officers stopped at the watch house in King Street, and insulted the watch, threatening to have their heart's blood before morning, &c. Two of the Selectmen waited on the Governor the same evening, to inform him of this abuse.

On the 2d of this instant, the minute company of the town of Lunenburg, consisting of fifty-seven able-bodied men, appeared in arms on the parade, at 10 o'clock, A.M., and after going through the several military manoeuvres, they marched to a public house, where the officers had prepared an elegant dinner for the company, a number of the respectable inhabitants of the town and patriotic military of the towns adjacent. At 10 o'clock, P.M., they marched in military procession to the Meeting-House, where the Rev. Mr. Adams delivered an excellent sermon suitable to the occasion, from Psalm xxi. 3. The whole business of the day was performed with decency, order, and to the satisfaction of a very large number of spectators. On the day following the freetholders and other inhabitants of the town assembled in a legal Town Meeting, and voted 100L. M. for the purpose of purchasing fire arms with bayonets and other implements of war, as seems to the advice of the late provincial Congress.
